

Underlying Thought
Philosophical Analyses of Epistemic and Ethical Cognition
Cardiff University – 29-30 June 2017

Thursday

10.00-10.30
Arrival

Brief Introductory Talk

10.30-11.10

Conflict of Interest and the Psychology of Judgment
Elizabeth David-Barrett (Sussex)

11.10-11.50

A Genealogy of Intuitions
James Andow (Reading)

11.50-12.30

Virtues and Vices of Thinking Fast and Slow
Alessandra Tanesini (Cardiff)

– Lunch –

1.10-1.50

How (and Where) Does Moral Judgment Work within Radical Embodied Cognition?
Mara Neijzen (Edinburgh)

1.50-2.30

Dual Processing Moral Judgment: Between the Intuitive and the Reflective
Christos Kyriacou (Cyprus)

2.30-3.10

Inferential Reasoning in Predictive Brains
Matteo Colombo (Tilburg)

– Coffee –

3.30-4.10

Authenticity and Practical Reason
Alberto Masala (Paris-Sorbonne)

4.10-4.50

Virtuous Uncertainty about Certain Intuitions
Clea Rees (Cardiff)

4.50-5.30

Why Aristotle Was Not a Two-System Dualist
Kristján Kristjánsson (Birmingham)

– Wine and then Conference Dinner –

Friday

09.30-10.10

A Two-level Framework for Understanding Implicit Bias
Anna Welpinghus (Technische Universität Dortmund)

10.10-10.50

Reasoning in Implicit Bias
Jonathan Webber (Cardiff)

– Coffee –

11.10-11.50

One System, Two Minds
Keith Frankish (Open)

11.50-12.30

Tacit Knowledge and Subpersonal Processes
Daniel Andler (Paris-Sorbonne)

– Lunch –

1.10-1.50

Ethical Judgments and Subjective Motivations
Simon Robertson (Cardiff)

1.50-2.30

Debunking and Vindicating Moral Intuitions
Hanno Sauer (Duisberg-Essen)

– Coffee –

3.00-3.40

What Makes a Rational Intuition Rational?
Nicholas Shackel (Cardiff)

3.40-4.20

Emotions as Heuristics
András Szígeti (Linköping)

– Conference Ends –