<sup>3</sup> In this context, the 'servient' was the bailiff: Eileen Gooder, Temple Balsall: the Warwickshire preceptory of the Templars and their fate (Chichester: Phillimore, 1995), p. 31.

<sup>4</sup> Presumably 'escarta', which means a volume of grain – normally a quarter (R. E. Latham, Revised Medieval Latin Word-List from British and Irish Sources, with supplement (London: OUP, 1965), p. 387: stated here to be a Gascon spelling of quarta), but in the enrolled account at TNA E 358/18 rot. 44.2 dorse the exchequer clerks rendered it as 'bussel'.

<sup>24</sup> The surface of this roll is badly worn and many words cannot be read clearly, but where they can be read they correspond with the enrolled account in E 358/19 rot. 47 d for Hollecromb year two. Where this roll is illegible the missing words have been filled in from E 358/19 rot. 47 d.

<sup>25</sup> All the figures here are the same as those in the enrolled account, with the exception of the final payment to the maid: in the enrolled account at E 358/19 rot. 47 d the maid receives five bushels; in the particulars of account she receives one quarter five bushels.
